VOLUME 42

Issued by the Senior Class of GENESEO
HIGH SCHOOL
Geneseo, Illinois

Through these doors we enter into a new day of learning and fellowship - - - - -

Foreword

To the students of Geneseo Senior High School, the future is only a short journey away. Each path to this future has been lighted by memories or events which are enclosed within these covers. Classes, activities, and athletics are some of the footlights leading the way.

With these thoughts in mind the Annual Staff presents the 1958 Sphinx to you. We sincerely hope you will consider each of the memories on these pages as one of your most important "Footlights to the Future".

MR. ORVAL PAXSON

MR. REX MILLIKIN

Dedication

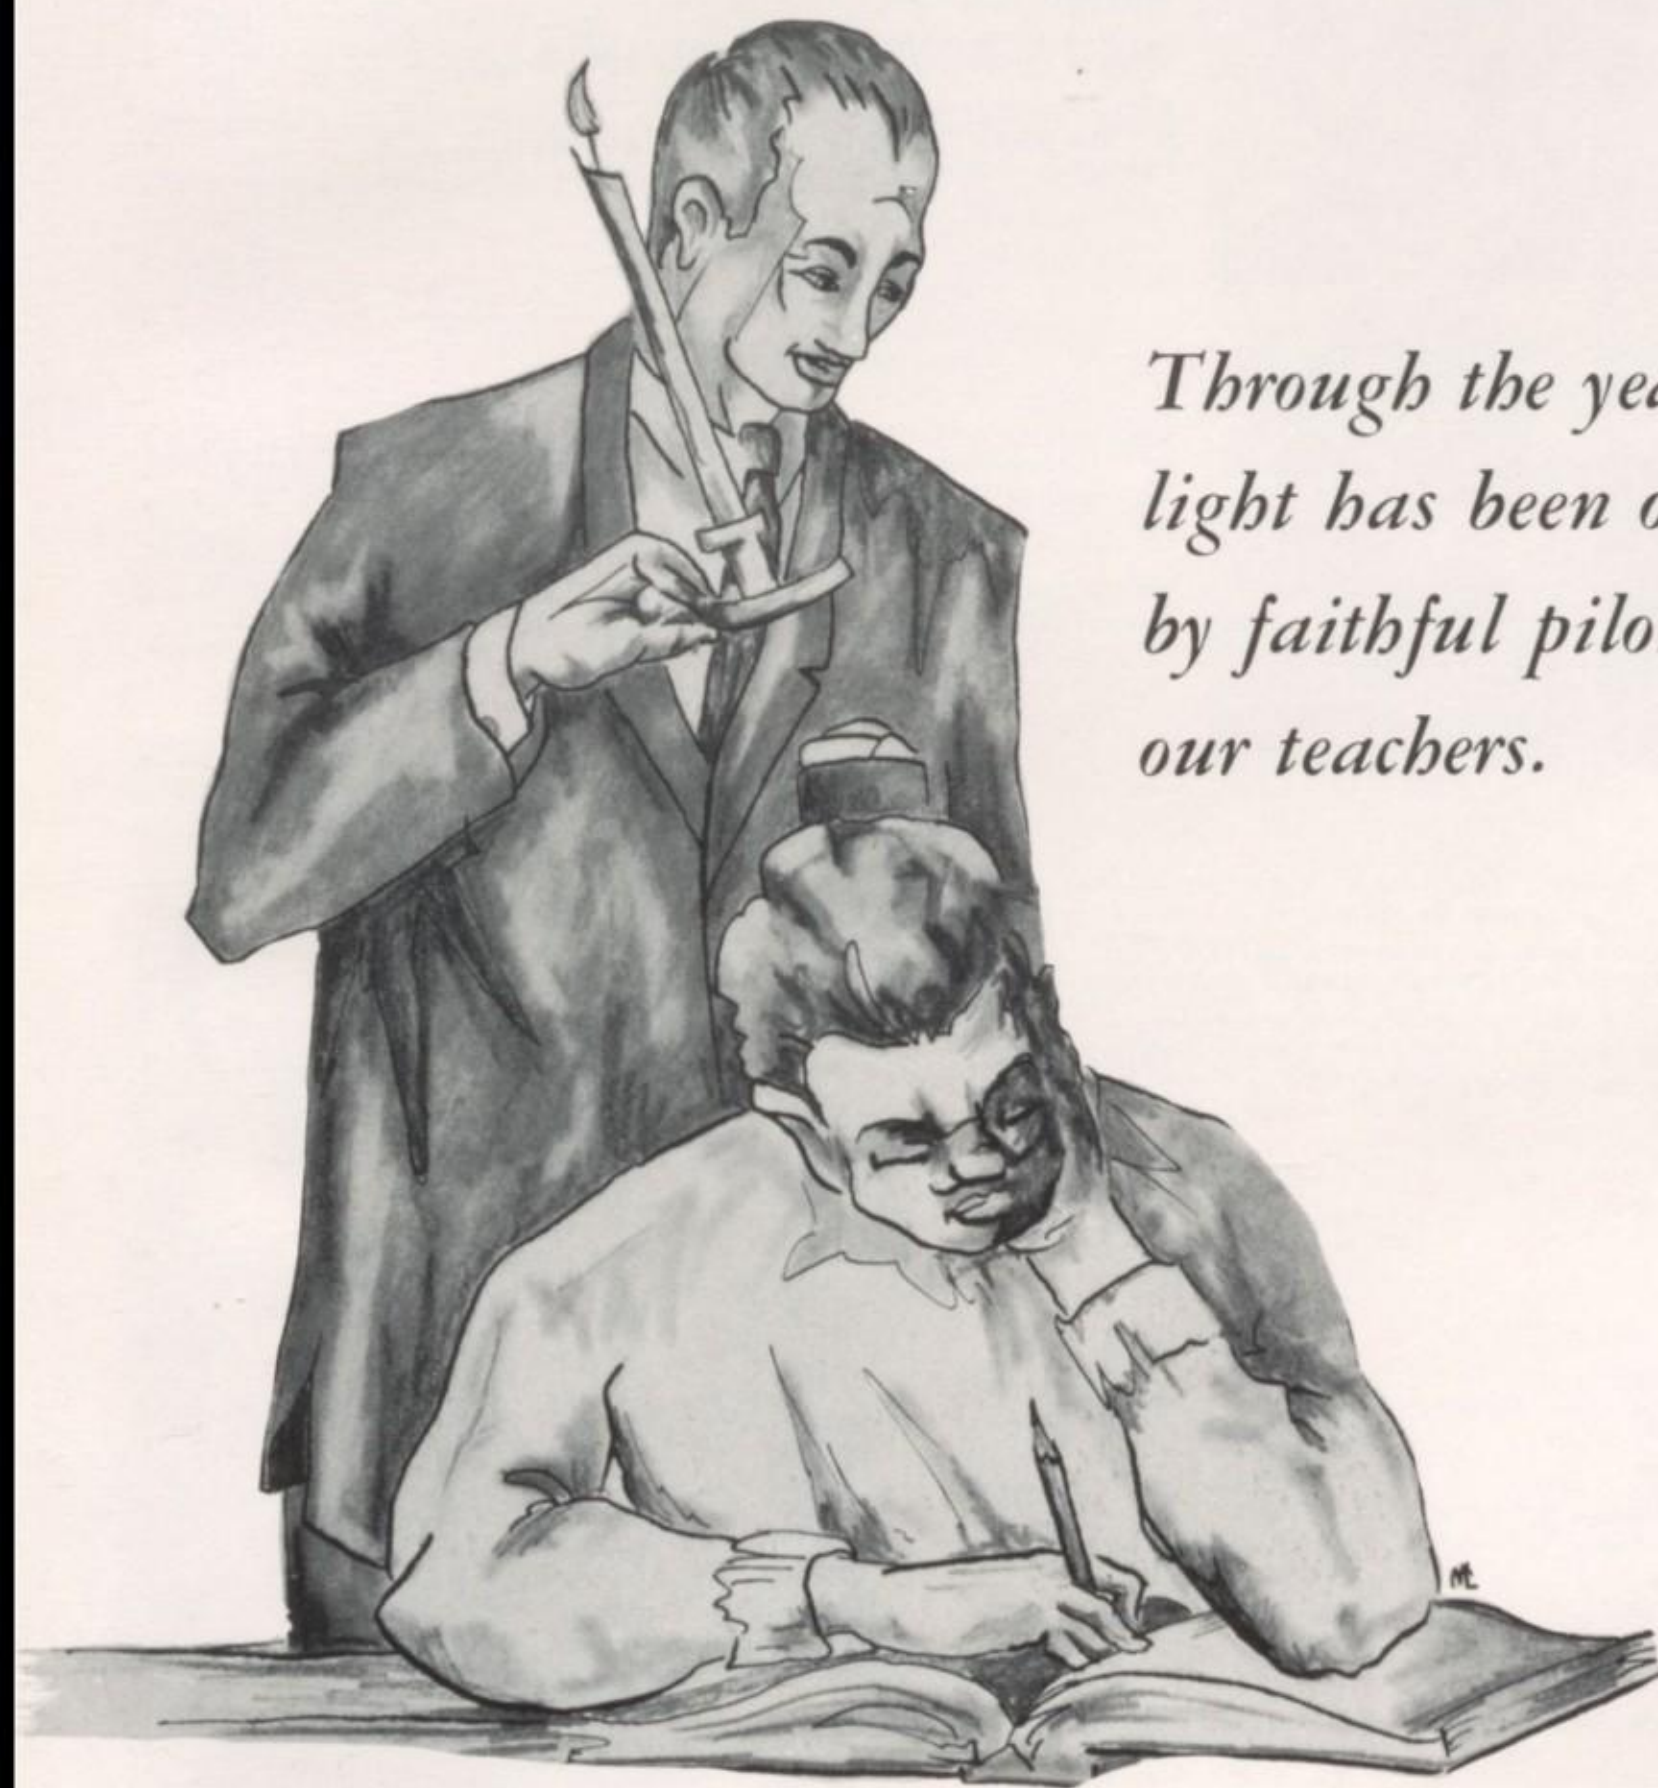

The "Footlights to the Future" contained within this book of memories have been guided by the patience, understanding, and skill of the two men pictured on these pages. Dedication of the 1958 Sphinx to only one of these leaders would be an impossibility, for their guidance has brought the 1958 graduating class to the threshold of a successful future.

We have gained the fullest pleasures and rewards from our last and most important year at GHS due to the leadership of our new principal, Mr. Orval Paxson. His quick smile, kind word of understanding, and patient guidance will always be one of our most important "footlights to the future".

Yet we cannot overlook those first two wonderful years at GHS. Sincere understanding sparked by quiet humor and kindness filled the corridors through these years because of the never-ending toil of Mr. Rex Millikin, now our new superintendent of schools.

Thus to you Mr. Paxson and to you Mr. Millikin, our principal guiding lights of these last three years, we dedicate this 1958 Sphinx, realizing this small token of appreciation can only represent a fraction of our deep devotion and gratitude to each of you.

*Through the years,
light has been offered us
by faithful pilot lights-- our teachers.*

THE SENIOR CLASS

President	Roger D. Miller
Vice-President	Nancy Bradley
Secretary-Treasurer	Mary Margaret McAvoy
Class Advisors	Mrs. Pinks and Mr. Reiser
Class Colors	Cherry and Light Gray
Class Flower	Chrysanthemum
Class Motto	"He who heeds instruction is on the path to life."

Class History

"He who heeds instruction is on the path to life."
This we have come to learn through struggle and through strife.

It all began in '55
When we were young and green.
We entered good old GHS
with an unsuspecting mien.
Miller and Kessler and Morrissey led the Booster Rhyme review.
Carter and Reiser, with bravery,
guided our paths straight and true.

Our junior year found troubles galore
for Jim, Judy, and Muff.
This was the year we worked far more
'Cause Prom was really tough.
Our "Hawaiian Haven" turned out to be a tropical paradise sweet.
And our rings and Booster Club glee
Just made our year complete.

This brings us to the final year
Which we feel was the best.
The times we'd had now become dear,
Each memory was blessed.
Miller, Bradley, and McAvoy,
Helped by Pinks and Reiser,
All made this final year a joy.
We enter life much wiser.
And now to goals unknown

Senior Class Play

Our Town, written by Thornton Wilder, was produced November fourteenth and fifteenth in the high school gymnasium. The play is of great uniqueness because of no scenery, only a few properties. The first act, a general outline of the history of the town, Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, told about the character of the citizens, the Gibbs and Webb families, beginning at breakfast and going through one entire day in the lives of these good people. The second act concerned the love affair of young George Gibbs and Emily Webb, and finally the moving wedding scene. In the third and final act the audience was led to a cemetery on the hill, where the townspeople were patiently awaiting, not judgment but greater understanding. In came the bride who wished to live again with her memories. The stage manager showed her how impossible and how futile it was to return. The story of life itself unfolded in these short minutes of the play, Our Town.

Class Prophecy

It is February, 1983. In the spotlight on the stage of life, we find the Secretary-Treasurer of the Geneseo Senior High Class of fifty-eight, the former Mary Margaret McAvoy (who by the way is now married to a prosperous farmer and has six children--all boys), as she is addressing invitations to old classmates for the class's twenty-fifth anniversary alumni banquet. Let us bring her into the footlights, and maybe we can tell by these addresses what others have done with their life. Let's look from the past up through the footlights of the future.

Some classmates have stayed in Illinois, and some still live in Geneseo. Jay Hanson, manager of Hanson's Hen Hatchery, Carol Wallenfeldt, third grade teacher at the Northeast Grade School, and David Johnson, GHS's present principal, are among those who decided "there's no place like home."

Those living near Geneseo include the following: Ronald Ford, who has recently bought Hulting Hybrids, is busy expanding his seed corn business; Ronald Lewis, Francis Ghys, and John Oberle were just elected to the board of directors of this expanding enterprise; Joyce Carroll, Mary Lou Sand, and Carol Neuleib are the fifty-eighters who have become happy farm wives near Geneseo.

Chicago is a city where many graduates work. Nancy Holmstrom, Janet Hamilton, and Mary Lou Holevoet work together as furniture and fashion merchandisers for Marshall Field and Company, while Diane Becker and Roger D. Miller are well-known cartoonists for the Chicago Tribune. Rita Lavery and her all girl French horn--accordion band (in which Judy Ague, Carol Snyder, and Sandra Young hold permanent positions) is now playing at the Blue Note, which is operated by Bill Benson, Esq. On Lake Michigan Donald Subo and Mike Maca-Fee own a row-boat renting establishment which is going broke because Dick Klemmer is renting motor boats for the same price next door.

In other parts of America, Geneseo classmates are making news in the fields of sports, movies, plays, politics, science, business, music, and television. On the stage of sports we find Roger Armstrong and Bill Quayle now touring the country as forwards on the National Leapfrog Team. Gary Christensen, who broke the 440 record in the 1962 Olympics, is now a teacher of ballet. Some of his famous pupils are the dance team of Sturm and Klockenga, commonly called the "rockin' redheads" and the ballet trio of Rivenburg, Rusk, and Reschke, known as the "Flying R's." In Hollywood Jim Cowan and Jerry Johnson are recently making a movie called "Beware, Pedestrians!" Another new film, "Silence is Golden," stars Jim Hale and Betty Haack. On Broadway Lois Kelsall, Jackie Stohl, and Virginia Frank are chorus girls in Bob Bowman's Female Follies. Stage Manager Ralph Mason and Janitor James Merrill are busy helping the girls with their act. The very serious stage play, "Nostrum Oppidum," stars such famous Latin scholars as Krieder Gunderson and Jack Heartlein. Politically speaking, the world wouldn't go around without U. S. Senator Jim Howard and U. S. Representative Donald Jensen. A prospective candidate for President in 1986 is T. R. Cotton, present Secretary of State. In the world of science the spotlight shines on Donna Bessant although it couldn't shine on her very long, for she is revolving around the moon in our newest "moonogloono" which means nothing in Russian. Revolving with her are Roger Lundberg, doctor of extra-terrestrial affairs, Alvin Bengston, doctor of moonology, and Ed Rahn, stow-away. Watching these from the earth are Helen Rashotov and Jim Hodgsonik, who have recently become Russian spies. In the science of medicine fifty-eighters are also making outstanding advancements. Donald VanDenBerg has just discovered a love-potion that will make girls swoon at the sight of any man. Jim Atwood and Dick Pobanz were caught trying the potion out in Girlville, Ohio, and were sentenced to two months in Song-Song prison where Allan Carlson is warden and where Jerry Fleming and Greg Nauyalis are sitting out 99 year terms. Back to the scientific world, doctors Gene Bouwens, Roger W. Miller, and Jim Holke are making an extensive study of life on Venus hoping to find some beauties. So far they have found only plant life.

In the manufacturing world, Jerry Clark and Klavohn are designing vehicles that will go faster than the speed of sound, which now-a-days isn't too fast. Other prominent manufacturers are Kenny Atwell and Gilbert Cady who are designing new can-openers for the new plastic cans which were invented by Bob Henson.

Music has played a leading role in the lives of many GHS graduates. Tim Hohenboken, Willard Lauth, Ronnie VanVooren have given up life on the farm for careers in music and are now touring Alaska with Ann Fehlman's be-bop band. Music critics Walter Johnson and Donald Duncan declare that this band is the coolest one yet. Maybe that is because they've given open-air concerts on their tour. Vocalist for this band is Rowann Griffith, and her assistant is JoAnn Henry. Speaking of vocalists--the Metropolitan Opera house is now hearing Betty Olson and Dawn Maranville present concerts nightly to the music of John Webster's Symphonic Orchestra.

Television has been the future for some of our talented actresses and actors. John Ogden is the announcer for "Just Plain Jane", a soap-box opera starring Carol McAvoy as Jane. John also does the announcing for "As the Satellite Turns", a space-show starring cadets Kenneth Kell, Richard Gradert, and Jim Lenth. Their leading ladies are cadettes Ruth Minnick, Charlotte Chambers, and Diane Atwell. Models for the show, Fearlessly Feminine are Marlene Goembel, Margaret Armstrong, Carolyn Betcher, and Mary DePauw.

Thus we see many of GHS's students have made good staying in America. Yet as we look further at Miss McAvoy's invitation, we see that many of them are being sent across the seas to Europe and Asia and even Africa. Many girls have gone abroad to live with their husbands stationed over seas. Judy Imel, Judy Lewis, Judy Verstraete, Joan VanHerzeele, and Marie Stottler are among these. Career women also have made their home outside of the U. S. boundaries. Nancy Bradley and Dorothy Sears are home economists in Yugoslavia, while Judy Steiner and Mary Garrity are teaching typing to some very confused Chinese. Out on the Sahara Desert one may find Janice Kline melting dry ice for the caravan leaders. Here Jim Weisser is head camel-boy, and Bob Jones is his helper. These men recently met some of their old classmates who now hold positions with the foreign legion. Legion Captain Jerry Radue, Major Bill Vandemore, and Lieutenant Bill Vermost were the other members of this reunion in Africa. Farther down in Africa Suzanne Kessler, Rita Morrissey, and Beverly King are tearfully singing "stranded in the jungel" because the plane on which they were airline hostesses crashed in cannibal land of the Belgian Congo. Rescuers Glenn Pobanz and Robert Stockwell are searching for them, but so far have only found cannibals slyly licking their chops.

Touring Europe are the famous tag-team wrestlers of Wild Red Belton and Wilder Whitey Borkgren. Referees for their matches are Janice Gramling and Carolene LeCleur. Other Americans in Europe are Mary Ann Peel (who is taking a post-graduate course at Oxford in England) and Cathy Partlow who teaches at a charm school in Lithuania. The Polenske sisters are also in Europe. They are just on a pleasure trip looking for husbands. Accompanying them are fellow man-hunters Barbara Skelton and Barbara Smithson. Thus we see that GHS's graduates of 1958 have found their role on the stage of life, and still they are looking out over the footlights to what the hopefully happy future will hold for them.

Juniors

We are the Juniors, Class of '59.

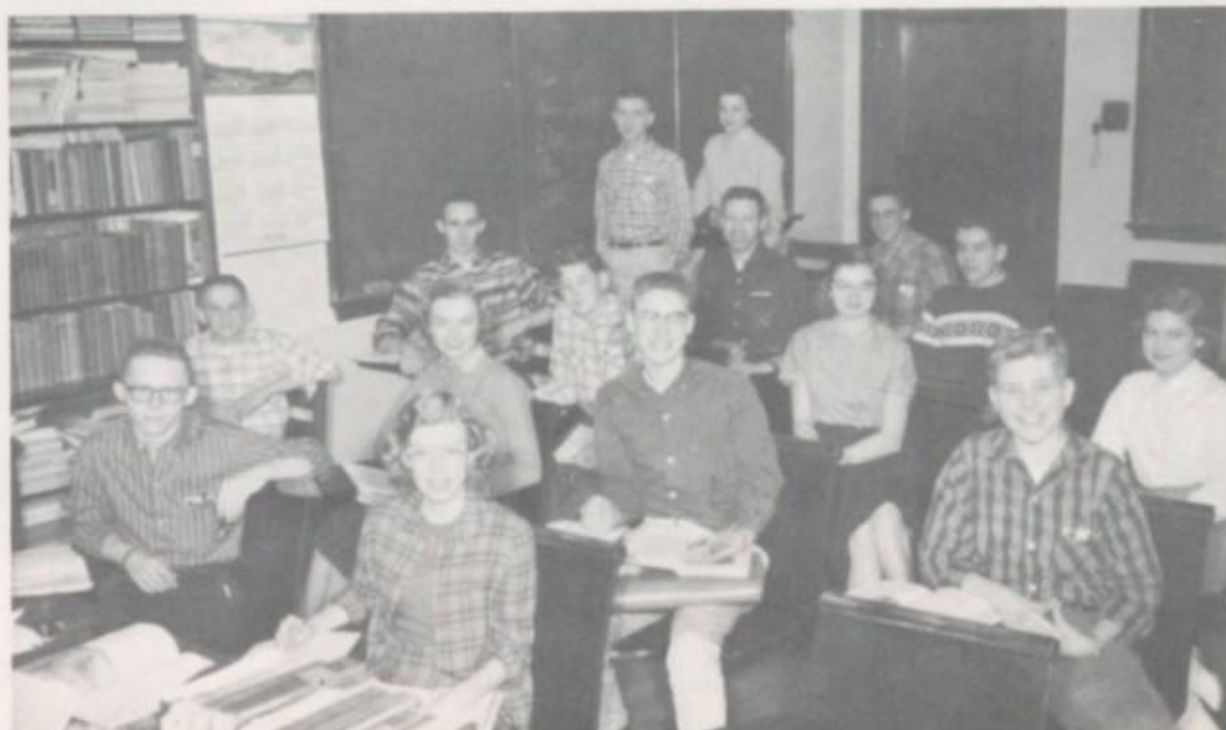

We were led by Schnaufer, Guild, and Sand,
And McCormick and Follett, sponsors so fine,
Who all worked together to make our year grand.

We started the year in the month of November,
With a Booster Club program so great and sublime,
Whose theme of dances was so well remembered,
That everyone there had a wonderful time.

Prom was our biggest event of the year.

The theme was kept so well out of sight,
That we were assured of success without fear,
And the reward for our work was a wonderful night.

Next we'll be seniors who hope for success,
And then we become the head of them all,
Ready yet unwilling to leave GHS,
But hoping to stand and never to fall.

Sophomores

Sophomores they call us and how we've worked

To make our year chuck-full of fun!

To jeers and hazing we answered with quirks,

And our year was truly a wonderful one.

In February's time came our chance

Finally to prove our worth to all.

We gave a program with the theme of romance,

And naturally everyone had a ball.

And then this first year came to an end,

So fast that the time just flew.

And now we'll not only in prestige ascend,

But greet next year's sophomores with what we feel due.

SPEECH

The GHS Speech Department enjoyed an active and successful season under the able leadership of Mr. Marvin Kleinau, coach of debate and individual events, and Mr. Thomas DeHaven, dramatics instructor.

This year the Varsity Speech Squad was made up of interested and capable students who worked in many of the various individual events. From this group sixteen were chosen to represent GHS at the annual NCIC Individual Events Contest which was held in Mendota. Geneseo won first place, thus scoring its thirteenth victory in the fifteen years of participation. In this contest Geneseo had four first place winners. Seniors Betty Haack, Judy Ague, and Jim Cowan won blue ribbons in extempore speaking, serious play reading, and after-dinner speaking, respectively; while sophomore Dawn Magerkurth received a first in original oratory. Second places went to the following: Bob Adams, extempore speaking; Judy Ague, comedy play reading; Donna Bessant, original monologue; Betty Haack, original oratory; Margo Miller, radio speaking. Tim and Bill Hohenboken won third places in after-dinner speaking and original monologue respectively. Fifth places went to Jackie Guild in serious play reading, to Sally Withrow in oratorical declamation, to Diane Snodgrass in extempore verse reading. Sixth place ratings went to Sharon Brady in oratorical declamation, to Carol Snyder in extempore verse reading. Helen Rash received a ninth in comedy play reading.

Two weeks later in Rock Island six participants won the right to go on to the Sectional Contest held in Galesburg. Sally Withrow, Bob Adams, and Jim Cowan won firsts; and Geneseo placed second in the meet.

At the Sectional Speech Contest, Sally Withrow and John Webster qualified for the State by receiving firsts; Bob Adams, Carol Snyder, Jim Cowan received third place ratings; and Betty Haack, a seventh. The Geneseo squad tied for first place with Peoria Woodruff.

The Varsity Debate Squad participated in several tournaments this year debating the proposition RESOLVED: That U. S. Foreign Aid should be substantially increased. The team, composed of Senior Betty Haack and Juniors Cathy Chamberlain, Bill Hohenboken, Bob Adams, and Nancy Torreyson, placed second at the Fourteenth Geneseo Invitational Tournament. They won five out of seven debates. At Normal the team won five debates and at Augustana won six to place ninth out of forty-six schools. They also won debates at the Sectional Meet at Galesburg. The novice squad made up of Tim Hohenboken, Julie Guild, Vickie Berner, and Diane Schmidt won four debates in the Pekin Invitational in February and the Mendota Meet in March. Fifteen sophomores took part in beginning debate and the team of Olds and Erdman defeated Hulting and Anderson for the sophomore championship.

Submerged was the title of the conference play and included six boys: Rod Armstrong, Jim Cowan, Allan Carlson, Ralph Mason, Bill Quayle, and Del Schnaufer. The play participated at the Conference Play contest held at DeKalb. Here it received a fourth out of eight participating schools. Cowan, Quayle, and Armstrong received All-Star Cast Awards. At the district play contest in Rock Island Submerged received a fourth place.

MUSIC

One of our brightest footlights to the future can be found in the work of the music department at GHS.

This year's band began its work with marching routines at several of the home football games. The band and chorus were both represented at the NCIC Music Festival on November 16 in Ottawa. The conference band and chorus rehearsed throughout the day and gave a concert that night. The Christmas Program on December 16 included a concert by the band and chorus.

On February 6 tryouts for vocal competition were held; and on Friday, February 28, the music department gave an assembly program for the student body in preparation for District Contest. The solo and ensemble contest was then held on March 1. On March 29 the Mapletones and the GHS Band traveled to District Contests. The entrees receiving a superior rating attended state contests on April 18-19.

The music department finished a successful year with spring concert on April 25. Due to the faithful work of the vocal instructor, Miss Cora Alyce Santee, and the toil of the new band director, Mr. Howard Sandlund, enjoyment and pleasure were given to GHS this year in the field of music. Thanks to those who worked so hard to produce so well.

Track

The Conference meet at Sterling marked the end of a great season for the Maple Leafs who finished sixth in the meet. With the aid of head coach, John McCormick, and the assistant coaches, Keith Follett and Ted Lawrence, the Cindermen turned in an excellent record by winning four out of five triangular meets. In other outstanding meets of this area the leafs placed as follows: seventh in Geneseo Day Relays; third in Davenport Relays; seventh in Kewanee Relays; fifth in Monmouth Relays; first in Maple Leaf Classic; and fourth in Geneseo Night Relays. Dale DeFauw was high point man on the squad, and Bill Gernant qualified for the State Meet in the pole vault. Jack McKenzie was elected honorary captain by his team mates.

Cross Country

The Maple Leaf Harriers, coached by John McCormick, finished another successful season. The Harriers brought home two wins and two defeats in dual meets winning over East Moline and Kewanee and losing to Rock Falls and Galesburg. The team placed seventh at the Sterling Invitational. In the NCIC the Harriers were second.

Near the end of the season the Leafs won second place in the District meet which sent them to the State meet. The squad elected Tom Cotton as honorary captain.

The sophomores cross country team won two out of five duals winning over Kewanee and Galesburg and losing to Rock Falls, Kewanee, and East Moline. They placed fifth in the NCIC. Richard Taets was elected honorary captain.

Varsity Football

The Maple Leaf Gridders under the guidance of Coach Ted Lawrence, assisted by Keith Follett and John McCormick, turned in a very good season for themselves by winning five games and losing four. During the season the team was plagued by sickness and injuries but had the strength and determination to come back strong. Co-Captain Bill Quayle was chosen as guard on the All-Conference first team as fullback.

Basketball

The Geneseo Maple Leafs, coached by Ted Lawrence, experienced a rough season. The Leafs won the first game of the season, but thereafter had a hard time getting into the winning column. The team was handicapped from the beginning because of the lack of both height and experience. The high light of the season for the Leafs was the upset over DeKalb. They finished the season with a record of four wins and eighteen defeats. Roger Miller was elected honorary captain for the year.

The Leaflets, coached by LaVern Boelkens, also had a rough time getting into the winning column. They finished their season with a record of three wins and sixteen defeats. Bob Cotton was elected honorary captain of the sophomore squad.

Wrestling

The Geneseo wrestlers, coached by John McCormick, had another very successful season this year. In dual meets the matmen won ten and lost six. In the NCIC the Geneseo grapplers placed third with Kenneth Atwell, Don Lenth, and Greg Nauyalis winning individual championships. In the State District meet, Geneseo placed fourth with Jim Lenth winning an individual title. Jim Lenth and Melvin Johnson qualified for the State Meet by winning first and second places respectively in the Sectional Meet held at Rock Island. Jim Lenth was elected honorary captain at the end of the season by his teammates.

The seconds also had a very successful year by winning ten and losing only four in dual meets.

Lettermen's Club

The "G" Club spent the year promoting its purposes of encouraging high standards of sportsmanship, character, leadership, and desire to win in athletics as well as making athletics attractive and meaningful to GHS students. All athletes who won a varsity "G" were members of the club. The officers for the year were: Rod Armstrong, president; Jim Lenth, vice-president; Tom Cotton, secretary; Gary Christenson, treasurer.

G.A.A.

The purpose of GAA is to stimulate interest and participation in girls' athletic activities. In the various seasons of the school year, girls play basketball, baseball, soccer, and archery. They meet on Tuesday and Thursday during activity period to enjoy strenuous but healthful exercise. The girls can win five awards in GAA, but only through actual participation and hard work. This year the GAA with its one hundred and thirty-two members was a busy organization and participated in many projects. They entered two state-wide postal meets in archery and basket-shooting; they were hostess school to a playday in the fall; they roller-skated in January; they held a Play Day for the lettermen in March; and they entertained their parents at an All-star Basketball Game.

The officers for the year were: Marcia Rivenburg, president; Jackie Stohl, vice-president; Betty Haack, secretary-treasurer; Margo Miller, point keeper; and Helen Rash, historian. Mrs. McCormick was a very busy sponsor.

Cheerleaders

It's time the cheerleaders were receiving their fifteen "rahs" for they well deserve them, don't you think?

These girls have held the spirit of the student body high even at the doorway to defeat. Diane Atwell, Mary DePauw, Connie Neuleib, Sue Ferguson, and Carol Snyder led the varsity this year. Cheering for the enthusiastic sophomores were Carol Shambaugh, Janet Larimer, and Katie McCormick. Among these nine girls glows the candle of loyalty and leadership which has burnt profusely throughout the year. Their leadership abilities have been well displayed at the pep meetings, cheers for various organizations, and the snake dance. Besides their cheerleading these girls also arrange for the student buses which make it possible for many students to attend out-of-town games.

Yes, this year's cheerleaders have indeed earned their fifteen "RaHS."

Once a month, strains of music - either soft or jive - float out of the gym into the ears of townspeople. They come from the dances sponsored by the Booster Club, an organization which is socially the largest in school and to which every student in senior high can belong. Programs are presented by each of the three classes under the leadership of President Rita Morrissey, Vice-President Jackie Stohl, Secretary Sue Ferguson, Treasurer Nancy Bradley, and the sponsors, Mr. Brokaw, Mr. DeHaven, Miss Gilborne, and Mrs. McCormick.

Annual Staff

TOP ROW: M. Goembel, M. Rivenburg, D. Bessant, B. Quayle, J. Ague, J. Stohl. FIRST ROW: J. Klavohn, R. Miller, B. Haack, T. Cotton.

Each year the Sphinx is written and edited by a group of seniors who leave the annual to the school as a memento of their presence.

This year the Sphinx was composed of ten persons; co-editors, Betty Haack and Roger D. Miller; business manager, Tom Cotton; assistant business manager, Jerry Klavohn; artist, Marcia Rivenburg; typist, Marlene Goembel; and reporters, Bill Quayle, Judy Ague, Jackie Stohl, and Donna Bessant. Under the guiding hand of Miss Madden, all of the pieces quickly and surely dropped into their proper places. To her the staff shouts, "Bravo!"

The Junior Sphinx and Green and White

Any student interested in journalism is sure to work on either the school newspaper, the JUNIOR SPHINX, or GREEN AND WHITE, which is school news published in the Genesee REPUBLIC. The editor and assistant editor of the JUNIOR SPHINX were Suzanne Kessler and Nancy Bradley respectively. Tim Hohenboken and his assistant, Marcia Rivenburg, handled the GREEN AND WHITE. Under them were many helpers: special editors, reporters, and typists.

The papers also continued the "Tip of the Hat" award which is a little red hat given to persons for outstanding accomplishments in school. Under the leadership of Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Pinks, and Mr. Syfert, the papers proved to great successes this year.

Student Council

TOP ROW: F. Schuetzler, K. Atwell, D. Bartz, M. Miller, T. Cotton. SECOND ROW: C. Neuleib, M. Peterson, D. Sieben, T. Bartlett, J. Reilly. FIRST ROW: D. Snodgrass, J. Ague, M. Rivenburg, R. Klemmer, J. Lenth, S. Ferguson.

The Student Council is the governing body of students in GHS. The members secure the wishes of the student body and pass them on to the faculty and others concerned. They also sponsor three major social events during the year; Homecoming, Night Relay Court, and the Cotton Ball.

Officers for the first of the year were: Dick Klemmer, president; Jim Lenth, vice-president; and Sue Ferguson, secretary. Second semester officers were: Marcia Rivenburg, president; Judy Ague, vice-president; and Diane Snodgrass, secretary. Mr. Rivenburg is sponsor of the group.

Future Teachers of America

Every month a group of juniors and seniors, who are interested in teaching, meet to investigate and discuss the teaching profession as a possible career. These Future Teachers of America, under the direction of Miss Madden, visit schools, have educators speak to them, and do other various experiments to learn about teaching. They also help the faculty at high school by sometimes substituting when the regular instructor is ill. They gave a tea for the faculty too in Nat'l. Education week.

Mary Lou Sand officiated, aided by Vice-President Donna Bessant, Secretary Carol Wallenfeldt, and Treasurer Nancy Torreyson.

Future Homemakers of America

With the help of Mrs. Lodge, many girls interested in home-making are striving "Toward New Horizons" in this field. These Future Homemakers of America seek to learn more about houses and how to make them into homes, and to be prepared for the future. The group sponsored many activities, including their annual Daddy Date Night. Officers for the year were: Janet Hamilton, president; Marlene Goembel, vice-president; Mary Lou Sand, secretary; Jackie Stohl, treasurer; Nancy Bradley, parliamentarian; Darlene Sammons, historian; Helen Rash, chairman of public relations; Vickie Burner, chairman of projects; Dorothy Sears, chairman of degrees; and Sue Snyder, recreation chairman. Mrs. Maurice Goembel helped the group as chapter mother.

Future Farmers of America

The Future Farmers of America, which builds better farmers for tomorrow by teaching better agricultural methods, is an important organization at GHS. The chapter is a very active one, and many of the fellows win good prizes when they enter in competition against other FFA chapters. The group also sponsored its annual Plow Boy Prom and the fall Corn Picker Safety Week Contest. Officers were: Ronnie Ford, president; Jim Atwood, vice-president; Dave Johnson, secretary; and Glen Werkheiser, treasurer. Mr. Brokaw sponsored the group.

Conservation Club

The Conservation Club is an organization devoted to the care and conservation of our natural resources, so that we will have supplies for the future. To have first hand experience in conservation, they maintain a pond on the Charles Sundeen farm near Geneseo. They have stocked it with fish and plants and have taken care of the land around it.

Officers for the year were: Dick Klemmer, president; Bill Vandemore, vice-president; and Jim Lenth, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Reiser served as sponsor.

Librarians' Club

Students interested in the library assist Miss Gilborne, the librarian, during the year. They are organized into a club to learn more about books and the library. Officers of the club are Diane Atwell, president; Barbara Skeleton, vice-president; Bill Quayle, secretary; and Dick Klemmer, treasurer.

This club is also affiliated with a regional group and a state group, and this year's presidents of the two came from the Geneseo Library Club. Rita Morton served as president of the regional group, DRY, and Donna Bessant was president of the Illinois Student Librarians' Association. Certainly there has been much hard work and honor in the Library Club this year.

Athenian Club

Thespian Society

Any student wishing to act under stage-lights joins an organization known as the Athenian Club. This group forms the basic dramatic association in high school. President Tim Hohenboken and other officers, vice-president, Gary Christiansen and secretary-treasurer, Jackie Guild, work with the sponsors, Mr. Kleinau and Mr. DeHaven, in directing members' talents into projects on or about the stage.

The senior dramatics group that acts behind the footlights is the Thespian Club, troupe 71 of the National Thespian Society. Under the direction of Mr. DeHaven, this group sponsored many of the plays given during the year and donated toward improvements for the stage and costume departments.

Officiating over the group were President Donna Bessant, Vice-President Del Schnauser, Secretary Mary Lou Sand, Treasurer Rod Armstrong, and Scribe Marcia Rivenburg.

Homecoming

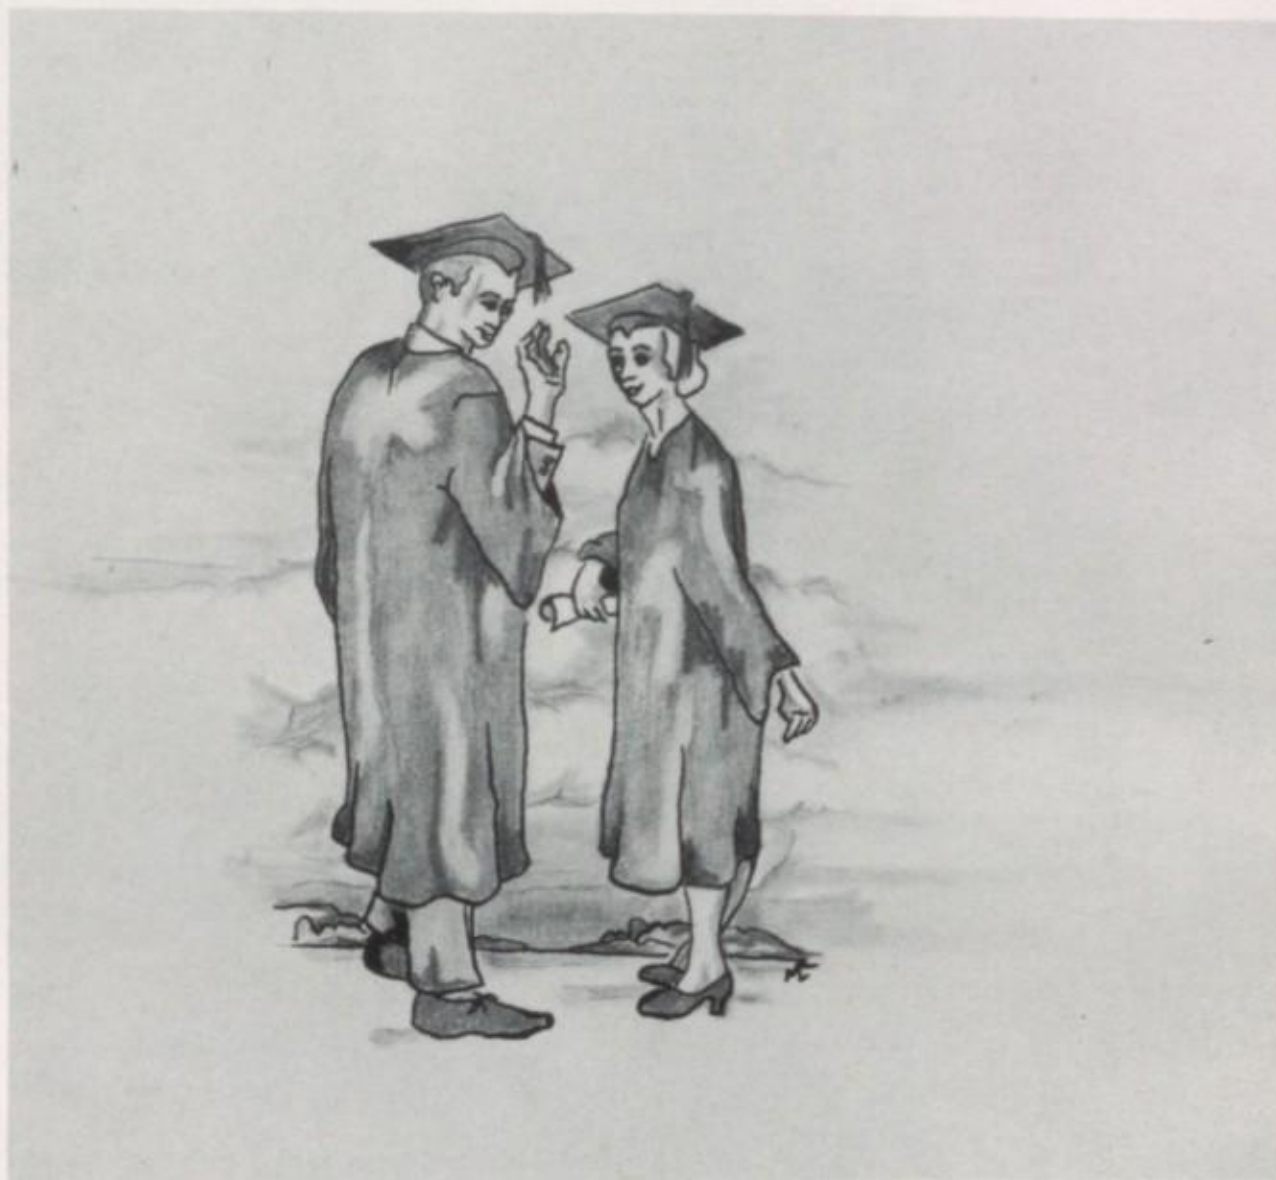

On January 25, Homecoming began its celebration by drawing a huge crowd to the J. D. Darnall Junior High School gymnasium. A speedy Orion team fought a point-by-point battle with a stubborn Maple Leaf team but nosed them out 71 to 63.

Although a little disappointed, the crowd was thrilled by the following Coronation. When all was ready Jerry Clark, master of ceremonies, made a welcoming speech and introduced Tom Bartlett and Joan Kasnick who sang "Because You're Mine" and "Make Believe," and the Boys' Quartet, composed of Francis Klavohn, Tom Bartlett, Dave Johnson, and John Ogden who sang "Almost Like Being in Love." Then Dick Klemmer, president of the first semester Student Council, announced the Court. First came two little flower girls, Darca Dralle and Christy Chaney, who daintily scattered rose petals from their flower baskets onto the center pathway. Behind them came the 1957 King and Queen, Bill Rink and Virginia Schuetzler, who started the procession. Next came Lord Rod Armstrong and Lady Rita Morrissey and Duke Jim Lenth and Duchess Betty Haack followed by King Bill Quayle and Queen Suzanne Kessler. Following the crowning, King Bill commanded everyone to dance and be merry.

National Honor Society 1957-58

Each year students selected for the National Honor Society are honored in an assembly before the student body. The qualities for which they are chosen are character, service, leadership, and scholarship. Seventeen representatives of the Class of 1958 chosen this year were Judy Ague, Donna Bessant, Nancy Bradley, Tom Cotton, Mary DePauw, Ronnie Ford, Marlene Goembel, Betty Haack, Janet Hamilton, Tim Hohenboken, David Johnson, Roger D. Miller, Cathy Partlow, Helen Rash, Marcia Rivenburg, Mary Lou Sand, and Carol Snyder. Miss Jean Gilborne was the sponsor of the National Honor Society.
